UPDATE FROM RIO DE JANEIRO

Work on the church building in Jacarepaguá is moving forward. As you can see, walls are going up on for the classrooms on the top floor. And the exterior walls are being finished and receiving a fresh coat of paint.

As has been the case for several years, on the first Saturday afternoon of the month the men and the women meet at the same time but in separate groups to pray, study God's word and for a time of fellowship.
